WSPS was established in 1989 as a place where caring, qualified mental health professionals of different disciplines could work together to share resources and expertise with each other, and thereby enhance the quality of care delivered to patients. We specialize in the treatment of Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder and related conditions, including Body Dysmorphic Disorder and Trichotillomania, as well as Tourette's Disorder, Attention-Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder, and all forms of Mood and Anxiety Disorders in adults, adolescents, and children. We also specialize in the treatment of Autism Spectrum Disorders, including Asperger's Disorder. We are located at 755 New York Avenue, Suite 200, in Huntington, Long Island, New York, approximately 40 miles east of midtown Manhattan.
